GARDNER'S ART THROUGH THE AGES

TWELFTH EDITION
VOLUME II

In medieval Europe, the book of the hours, called Asā because its central component consists in the hours of the Virgin, became the book of prayer of choice for the faithful prospered enough to order or buy said book. Although its content was of monastic origin, literate lay readers were the most likely to use hours of hours, as it was not only as a prayer book, but also as a way to keep track of the calendar, often duplicating as a family chronic. Hours of hours provide information on broad patterns of mercy marking the high and the posterior mean age, and through their choice of texts, images and materials, they inform us about the inner life and the aspirations of all of all of Kings and Queens and Seas and Ladies to Monks and Nuns and, ordinary members of the Pediatric class, merchants and others. In this course, we will explore how the books of hours provide close to a complete and continuous record of the development of painting in the majority of Western Europe from the thirteenth century to the beginning of the 16th century. The book of the hours is made of a series of courses called "The book: stories through time and space". You can take this course on your own, or with the other courses of the series. Harvard X requires individuals who enroll in their courses on Edx to comply with the terms of the Honor Edx. Harvard x will take the appropriate corrective measures in response to the violations of the Honor Edx, which may include the dismissal of the Harvardx course; Revocation of the certificates received for the Harvardx course; or other resources such as circumstances justify it. No refunds in case of corrective action for such violations will be granted. The candidates who are taking Harvardx courses as part of another program will also be for the academic policy of these programs. Harvard X pursues the science of learning. When registering as a line in line with an HX course, you will also do it In research on learning. Read our investigation statement to learn more. Harvard University and Harvard X are committed to maintaining a safe and healthy educational and work environment in which no member of the community is excluded from participation, nor are the benefits of our program denied, nor is it under discrimination or harassment. All members of the Harvardx community are expected to comply with Harvard non -discrimination policies, including sexual harassment, and EDX service. If you have any questions or restlessness, please contact harvardx@harvard.edu and/or report your experience through the EDX contact form. CC0/Free -photos/Pixabay, whether you consider it an investment, a hobby or simply a great way to decorate the walls in your home, acquiring new art can be a fun and stimulating experience. Although many people assume that collecting art is only for millionaires, the truth is that you can begin your own art collection in any budget. You may not have the funds to fill it with famous pieces, but all that matters is that you fill it with pieces you love. Knowing what you like first, let it collect what you like, even if it is something dark that others may not appreciate or understand. Unless you are trying to make a very important day "and that is often difficult to make a collection will not be fun if you force you to choose elements only because they are fashionable. If you are not sure what you love, go to the library and check out some art history books. Go to gallery of art in your community, and see the artisanal cabins at local fairs and festivals. Make a simple bust on the Internet, visit an antiques store or turn through art in your local craft store or in the large cash store.
